KNOWLEDGE IS THE MOST IMPORTANT FACTOR IN INVESTING

YOU SHOULD KNOW THAT FOR THE YEAR 1911, N. Y., N. H. & H., Pennsylvania, Union Pacific, Atchison, Southern Pacific and St. Paul R. R. Cos. showed an average increase over 1907 of only 3.7 per cent IN NET EARNINGS.

U. S. Steel Corporation, Virginia-Carolina Chem., National Biscuit, American Locomotive, American Car & Foundry, American Smelting and Refining, and the International Harvester Cos. showed an average increase over 1907 of only 0.8 per cent IN NET EARNINGS.

DURING THE SAME PERIOD THE SAME NUMBER OF REPRESENTATIVE LIGHT & POWER COMPANIES AVERAGED

111.4 per cent INCREASE IN NET EARNINGS

These are but a few comparative facts that every investor, large or small, and every individual connected with any financial institution, should know.

Our new eight page pamphlet is the strongest compilation ever published of the EARNINGS, EQUITIES and INCOMES of the above three classes of securities.

We shall be pleased to send this pamphlet upon request.

NEWSPAPER HISTORY

The Rockland Gazette was established in 1846. In 1874 the Courier was established, and consolidated with the Gazette in 1882. The Free Press was established in 1885, and in 1891 changed its name to the Tribune. These papers consolidated March 17, 1897.

There is nothing truly valuable which can be purchased without pains and labor.—Addison.

Joe Jeannette, the Hoboken negro heavyweight, who expects to meet Jack Johnson next month, met Jeff Madden of Boston for a round bout in Madison Square Garden Monday night, and so outclassed his man that the fight was stopped in the second round.

Rear Admiral Alfred Reynolds has been appointed naval attaché of the Secretary of State on his mission to the funeral of the late Emperor of Japan. Admiral Reynolds was commander of the monitor Nevada when the North Atlantic Coast Squadron had its summer rendezvous in Rockland harbor a few years ago.

Laverne W. Noyes, treasurer of the Progressive arrangements committee, has made public a statement of receipts and disbursements of the recent Progressive National convention in August showing that the total expenditure of the convention was $10,403. The balance sheet shows the following receipts: From individuals $2,000; from Chicago hotels, $3,350; from ticket sale, $11,252.55; from programs, $1,255.85. Total, $19,870.94. As the total expenditures for hall, music, offices and arrangements amounted to $10,403.31, the committee has a balance of $4,467.63 on hand.

One battleship to cost $7,425,000, with armor of 12 inches, and not to exceed $15,000,000 when completed; eight submarines, costing $4,480,000; and a fleet of torpedo boats, colliers and machine ships, constitute the building program for the Navy approved Monday by the Senate. The bill was agreed upon also provides for a round-the-world wireless system by which the Navy Department could keep in touch with its ships on virtually every part of the globe.

That New York may be on the verge of a great political upheaval is one of the most interesting points now being discussed in connection with the Rosenthal shooting, in which a gambler on the eve of furnishing the district attorney with evidence which he claimed would involve the police in a scandal with the gamblers was coolly put out of the way in the heart of the city. Even staid New Yorkers are forced to admit the presence of bands of hired assassins who will do anything with any designated victim provided their price be paid. The political significance of the murder is at present confined to speculation as to what the result will be if District Attorney Whitman is actually able to bring the murderers to justice and in so doing develops complicity between the police, gamblers and the hired murderers. Such a result would cause the greatest airing of dirty political linen since the days of the Lexow committee and it is believed would make Mr. Whitman the logical Republican candidate for the governorship of the state. In this connection it is pointed out that the conditions revealed by the Lexow investigating committee which laid bare an almost unbelievable state of corruption resulted in the swinging of the state from the Democratic party, which was then in power, to the Republican lists resulting in a succession of Republican governors. Added importance is given to the present situation because of the fact that this is a presidential year.

OPPOSITE WAITING ROOM

This Week

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

A review from the columns of this paper of some of the events which interested Rockland and vicinity for month ending Aug. 23, 1887.

The auction sale of Mexican mustangs took place on the Broadway ball grounds. The prices ranged from $30 to $110, the total for 66 horses being $3905. "Any lady can drive them," said the auctioneer—but the purchasers found long before they reached home that the auctioneer was slightly in error.

C. H. Spaulding was having a new house built on James street.

Fred M. Smith of Crescent Beach had a large bald-headed eagle, captured in St. George by D. D. Graves.

Silas W. McLoon bought the house on Middle street, owned by Mrs. Florence Vose, and occupied by W. O. Fuller, Jr., for $3000.

Miss N. T. Sleeper bought Mrs. F. I. Jones' millinery business. E. A. Jones succeeded Miss Sleeper in the Rockland Water Co.'s office.

Steamer City of Richmond, Capt. Dennison, ran onto an unknown rock in the middle of Dyer's Island Narrows and was beached. The passengers were taken off by the steamer Forest City. The Richmond's damages proved comparatively small.

Knox and Lincoln veterans held their annual meeting in Wells' grove, Waldoboro. The following officers were elected: C. A. Ames, Damariscotta Mills, president; H. T. Strout, Washington, J. W. Kallach, Warren, S. F. Bachelder, Union, S. L. Miller, Waldoboro, Warren, Keene, Whitefield, J. D. Morse, Thomaston, C. D. Jones, Rockland, T. G. Libby, Vinalhaven, J. S. Cleveland, Camden, A. D. Champney, Rockport, William McLain, Appleton, J. E. Kelley, Boothbay, vice presidents; William H. Levensaler, Waldoboro, secretary.

Sch. Addie M. Bird Cushman, struck on Campobello, and became a total loss.

Good progress was being made on Spofford block, corner of Main and School streets.

Gen. Hiram G. Berry Post, G. A. R.

of Malden, Mass., 70 strong, accompanied by the Maplewood Cadet Band of 21 pieces, and a delegation from the Malden Relief Corps, visited Rockland, J. E. Rhodes presided over the campfire in Grand Army hall and the visitors were welcomed by Mayor Williams. There was a reception and ball in Farwell hall, the reception committee comprising Mrs. Davis Tillson, Mrs. A. S. Rice, Mrs. F. E. Hitchcock, Dr. Hitchcock, James Wright and Dr. S. H. Boynton. Mrs. H. G. Berry and daughter, Mrs. A. D. Snow, of Brooklyn, were presented by Brigadier Gen. Davis Tillson. The visitors were splendidly entertained.

At the annual reunion of the 6th Maine regiment in Searsport J. E. Rhodes of this city was elected president.

J. W. Tuckerman bought the real estate of M. J. Landers at the corner of Pearl and Sea streets.

Rockland's valuation was $3,787,584 and the total tax commitment was $97,071. The tax rate was $24 on $1000.

Madden, pitcher of the Rockland baseball team, broke his arm while delivering the ball, the snap being distinctly heard by many of the spectators. A collection amounting to $70 was taken for his benefit.

S. H. Gurdy bought from Capt. Charles Marston three acres of land known as the Gay field opposite the Gay schoolhouse. He was putting in a roadway (now known as Gurdy street).

A sailboat containing Charles Fish, Warren Spearin and Maynard Willis capsized in the harbor. The occupants were rescued, none too soon.

Richard, young son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. E. Thorndike, fell from Ames' wharf, and was going under for the last time when rescued by Fred Meservey.

Capt. E. A. Butler bought from T. P. Pierce a lot of land at the corner of Union and Beech streets, with the intention of building.

T. H. McLain was elected president of the contributors of the Maine Farmers' Almanac at their annual meeting in Augusta.

B. A. Atkinson & Co. established a furniture store in the St. Nicholas hotel building.

The Rockland baseball team disbanded, for lack of support. It stood second in the league with Belfast and Bangor.

The following births were recorded: Rockland, Aug. 7, Mr. and Mrs. George Davis, a daughter.

Owl's Head, Aug. 5, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Miller of Castine, a daughter.

Rockland, Aug. 3, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Fitch, a son.

Rockland, Aug. 8, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Marks, twins, son and daughter.

North Waldoboro, Aug. 6, Mr. and Mrs. Milton L. Sprague, a son.

Rockland, Aug. 6, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel W. Look, a son.

North Waldoboro, Aug. 3, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Flanders, a son.

South Hope, Aug. 2, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hastings, a son.

South Cushing, Aug. 10, Mr. and Mrs. Eben D. Condon, a son.

Rockland, Aug. 28, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Plummer, a son.

Rockland, Aug. 22, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Bishop, a daughter.

St. George, Aug. 18, Mr. and Mrs. J. Adam Wiley, a son.

Union, Aug. 22, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hagar, a son.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

Old-fashioned poetry, but choicely good.

—Isaac Walton.

A Dream of Autumn

I heard a man of many winters say.

"Sometimes a sweet dream comes to me by night.

Fluttering my heart with pulses of delight.

In glory bright as day;

'Tis not the stir of manhood, nor the pain.

The flood of passions, and the pomp of life.

The toils, the care, the triumphs, and the strife.

That move my soul again;

'Ah! no, my prison-gates are open thrown.

There is a brighter earth, a lovelier air.

One face I see, I hear one voice, but one.

'Tis She, and She alone!

"It is a golden morning of the spring.

My cheek is pale, and hers is warm with bloom.

And we are left in that old carven room.

And she begins to sing:

"The open casement quivers in the breeze.

And one large muskrose leans its dewy grace

Into the chamber, like a happy faun.

And round it swim the bees;

"Sometimes her sunny brow she loves to lean

Over her harp-strings; sometimes her blue eyes

Are diving into the blue morning skies,

Or woodland shadows green;

"Sometimes she looks down a garden walk

Whence echoes of blithe converse come and go.

And two or three fair sisters, laughing low,

Go hand in hand, and talk.

"And once or twice all fearfully she gazed

Up to her gray fore-fathers, grim and tall.

With faded brows that frown'd along the wall.

And steadfast eyes amazed.

"She stays her song; I linger idly by;

She lifts her head, and then she casts it down.

With a low, broken sigh;

"I know not what I said; what she replied

Lives like eternal sunshine, in my heart;

And then I murmured, oh! we never part.

My love, my life, my bride!

"And then, as if to crown that first of hours,

That hour that ne'er was mated by another,

Into an open casement her young brother

Threw a fresh wreath of flowers.

"And silence o'er us, after that great bliss.

Fell like a welcome shadow; and I heard

The far voices sighing, and a summer bird

Singing amid the trees;

"The sweet bird's happy song, that stream'd

Around,

The murmur of the woods, the azure skies.

Went grave on my heart, though ears and eyes

Mark'd neither sight nor sound.

"She sleeps in peace beneath the chancel stone.

But ah! so clearly is the vision seen.

The dead seem raised or death hath never

Were I not here alone.

"Oft, as I wake at morn, I seem to see

A moment, the sweet shadow of that shade.

Her blessed face, as it were both to fade.

Turn'd back to look on me."

—F. Tennyson.

TWO-A-WEEK.

CIRCULATION AFFIDAVIT

Rockland, AUGUST 24, 1912.
Personally appeared, Neil S. Perry, who on oath declares that he is president in the office of the Rockland Publishing Co., and that the issue of The Courier-Gazette of August 20, 1912, was printed a total of 4,350 copies before me.
I, W. CROCKER, Notary Public.

We hold it to be sometimes pardonable for a community to toss a bouquet to itself, and this graceful floral feat it is certainly possible for Rockland to perform in view of the exceeding success that has attended upon this week's celebration. We confess to having harbored a suspicion that the shortness of time devoted to preparation would seriously handicap the general and special committees and result in disappointment, but our fears happily were unfounded. We hadn't reckoned upon the zeal and efficiency of the gentlemen engaged in the work, nor in the heartiness of co-operation with which the business men of the city responded. Great crowds of people have come to enjoy the hospitality, the machinery of amusement has worked with satisfactory smoothness and everything has contributed to make this one of the most successful business carnivals—we quote the opinion of those familiar with the subject—ever held in New England.

Our virtuous friends of the little Kennebec circle of Democratic bosses have been dreadfully horrified at the sins of the Republicans of Maine, over which they have not ceased to berate the people through their newspapers and platform speakers. For the two years that they have been in power those bosses have thrown law to the winds. Numerous illustrations can be given. Here is one:

In June, 1911, an illegal contract for doing the State book printing and printing of ballots was made with the Waterville Sentinel Publishing Company. It would not be complimentary to the intelligence of the Democratic governor and to the attorney general to say that they DID NOT KNOW that the contract was illegal. The illegality of that contract was a plainly discernible fact. Moreover, a few months afterward the Supreme Court, in reply to a question by the Governor and Council, told them the contract was null and void.

Notwithstanding the decision of the court, the printing is still going on under the terms of that contract. The State auditor is approving bills and the governor is drawing his warrants for the payment of the bills to the Waterville Sentinel Publishing Company. There is no pretense whatever of obeying the laws of the State, which provide that there shall be competitive bids, and that a contract shall be made with the lowest possible bidder, if that bidder is NOT AN OFFICE HOLDER.

There is no contract today. There has been no legal contract for more than a year. Do the people of this State wish to have business involving the payment of thousands of dollars done in violation of the law?

The Maine Anti-Tuberculosis Society has designated October 27 as the day of national observance, on which day churches and religious societies to the number of 10,000 will be urged to give special attention to the prevention of tuberculosis. It appears from statistics that ten percent of the deaths among church members are caused by this disease. We don't go so far as to say that this argues a special danger in church-going, but it does furnish a reason why pastors may want to consider the subject from the pulpit on the day indicated. If any such, reading this paragraph, desires information as to what the national society wishes in the way of help, he should write to the Executive Secretary, Maine Asso., Fairfield, Me.

The Maine Press Association members will hold their annual outing this year down Lincoln county way and they'll be bound to enjoy themselves. Among other things they will visit the ancient fort at Pemaquid, which, flying the three flags of England, France and the United States, is one of the most picturesque and interesting sights in America.

WHAT'S THE ANSWER?

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—On Friday of last week County Attorney Howard Rice complained in the Police Court against Joseph Mealey, Maud Mealey, George Visso, Tony Kolan and George Morris for maintaining liquor nuisances. At the trials the warrants issued by R. O. for both performances. We would advise all to secure seats early if you do not wish to stand up. The matinee prices are children 10 cents, adults 20 cents, evening prices 10, 20, 30 cents; box office now open and seats are selling for all three performances. Order now. Cars to Thomaston, Camden and Crescent Beach after the show. On Monday, Manager Engley has secured a mammoth program of all special feature pictures which will be one of the greatest picture bills ever presented at the popular Empire Theatre—a bill that every one should see without fail. Same little prices all next week—10 and 20 cents.

The past, present and future of Hood's Sarsaparilla are: It has cured, it is curing, it will cure.

KLARK—URBAN

The ever popular Klark-Urban players will close their most successful week's engagement at the popular Empire Theatre Saturday and already the advance sale points to a R. O. for both performances. We would advise all to secure seats early if you do not wish to stand up. ROCKLAND'S CARNIVAL A GRAND SUCCESS

Tuesday's Parade Best the City Ever Saw—Rockport and Orono Companies Won First Prizes In Fireman's Muster—Fog Didn't Stop Motor Boat Races—Walter Jones Springs a Surprise In Five-Mile Race—Aviator Gray Does a Sensational Stunt.

The principal events of the Five Days' Carnival have passed into history, and wonderfully satisfying history it is to the Board of Trade, the citizens, and the sightseers. The festive summer weather has been very kind to us, and every scheduled feature has been carried out with complete success. But here is the whole story. Read it for yourself:

The Historical Parade

When it advertised a parade of nearly two miles in length the Board of Trade was guilty of no exaggeration. Had it advertised the best parade ever held in Rockland the same assertion would have applied, for the sentiment is very nearly unanimous that the Historical Parade has never been equaled here in point of beauty or novelty. And this is all the more creditable from the fact that only a few weeks were spent in preparation where an event of that magnitude usually requires two months of planning and hard work.

The crowd which lined the streets for the entire length of the business section was the largest that has been seen here for many years. Where the folks all came from is a mystery. The incoming cars had not seemed to be as heavily laden as they sometimes are on circus days or other holiday occasions, yet somehow, and from somewhere, there assembled a multitude of sightseers that defied the hardworking committees and the merchants who had so generously contributed.

The parade started at 11:25, only 25 minutes later than the advertised hour in spite of the immense amount of labor involved in preparation. At its head rode the marshal of the day, Ralph W. Brown, wearing the uniform of the National Guard. It may be said right here that he handled the big parade in a masterful manner, and was ably assisted by his aids, Roy L. Knowlton, George F. Crocker and Ralph Webster.

Escort duty was performed by a platoon of "Finest" comprising Deputy Marshal L. G. Barter, and Patrolmen Isaac Fields, Harold W. Philbrook and L. A. Grant. The first division was headed by Ingerham's Band of 24 pieces, with the veteran bandmaster, R. G. Ingerham, as leader.

Then came a tribe of "Indians," made up in such realistic manner that the spectators half expected to hear warwhoops such as curdled the blood in the veins of the early settlers. In the tribes were the chiefs Powhatan and Samoset, impersonated by Amos Peters and Frank W. Fletcher. Pocahontas, who saved the life of Capt. John Smith, was attractively impersonated by Miss Amanda Peters, while the valiant Smith was impersonated by Capt. Elvin Leary. At the rear of the tribe came the "papooses," drawn in true aboriginal fashion on hurdles.

The Past and Present were strikingly represented in a remarkable series of conveyances, whose construction covered a period from the middle of the 18th century down to the present year.

Heading this wonderful cavalcade was a horseback rider, whose saddle bore the legend "Dr. Ayer of Palermo." In the ancient saddlebag was the medicine outfit which was used by Dr. Ayer, a famous Palermo physician, who died 115 years ago. It was loaned for the parade by a son of John Ayer of Palermo.

In order there came the following conveyances, bringing to old residents vivid recollections of bygone days.

Riding wagon, owned by the family of the late Otis Fiske of Rockville, built in 1750.
Riding wagon, once owned by the Starnes family, now the property of B. O. Norton of Belfast; built in 1758.
Riding wagon, once owned by Gen. Knox, now the property of a Mr. Embree of Nobleboro; built in 1759.
The Ingerham chaise, owned by W. E. Ingerham; built in 1787.
The Crockett chaise owned by A. B. Crockett; built in 1790.
The Isaac Achorn buggy, owned by Girard Achorn; built in 1805.
The Gen. Knox coach, rebuilt and remodeled. Gen. Knox was impersonated by Luther L. Smith and Madame Knox by Miss Marion Grant. The outriders were Robert U. Adams and Ernest Jordan.

Victoria, owned by Charles Lovejoy of Thomaston; built in 1840.
Tea cart, owned by B. F. Smith of Warren; built in 1840.
Spider phaeton, owned by A. B. Crockett; built in 1845.
Carriage, owned by B. F. Smith of Warren; built in 1846.
Some of the vehicles above mentioned were drawn by two horses and some by four. The occupants were gowned in ancient costume, representing as nearly as possible the period in which the conveyances were constructed.

Next came an old stage coach used in war time on the Rockland, Damascus and Bath route. "Lincoln's Call of '61," read a placard on the sides. Riding on and within this coach were a score of Grand Army veterans, most of whom rode to and from the great struggle in that self-same coach. A picturesque figure among them was Myrick H. Nash, who wore his army cap, and carried a sword and pistol which went through the war. A fire and drum corps furnished music, with very brief intermissions. The old stage coach and the veterans were notable features of the parade, and the applause was incessant along the line of march.

Witham, aged 81, and the youngsters were Capt. Aylward, aged 66, who was somewhat of a kid when the war broke out.

The Grand Army men were much affected by their reception all along the line, and handkerchiefs were often applied to damp eyes.

They have asked The Courier-Gazette to express their great appreciation of the reception which the public gave them, and of the kindness of D. M. Murphy who provided the coach and horses.

There now come two ox-teams. The first is owned by William Post of Owl's Head, and is attached to a drag on which rests an old-fashioned plough, owned by John Sherer. It ploughed once made the springtime furrows on the farm of the owner's grandfather, the late Capt. Sherer.

The second ox-team was owned by Jason Packard of Rockport, and drew a dump-cart. The oxen were expertly handled by Harris Fletcher, who was garbed in appropriate farming costume.

In striking contrast to the old fashioned plough and dump cart were the 1912 spreader owned by J. S. Gardner, and the sulky plough owned by Al. Marsh.

There now come four more vehicles that hold the public's attention. The first is an old carriage cut-down. The second is a sleigh of the vintage of 1800, its two occupants clad in furs. The payment presented rather poor "sledding," but the riders did not seem to be embarrassed thereby. The third was a top-sleigh, built the previous year and drawn by a bicycle wagon of 1912 model, owned by George M. Simmons.

The three saddle-back riders were Mrs. J. W. Wilde, Mrs. Tobias Seavey and Miss Jeannette Simmons. Mrs. Eva Snow as organist and Adella F. Veazie as violinist, each appropriately garbed in ancient costume, occupied a conveyance which got its share of applause along the line.

Four horses which attracted much attention came in the following order: Stallion owned by S. F. O'Brien; Sad removal from Major Fox, a famous stallion, owned by A. B. Crockett; descended from Hiram Drew, stallion of the Drew family.

Horse driven by Charles Burkett, attached to a high wheel sulky in which Redman Bros. and attached to modern sulky.

In this parade of contrasts there was nothing more striking than the two dancing groups. The first represented old times and danced the "fore and after," on a platform decorated with evergreen and bunting. The second was a modern dance, and was drawn by four horses owned by S. H. Doe.

The section of the parade which has been briefly and inadequately described was under the charge of a committee comprising four of our well known lively stable proprietors—Arthur B. Crockett, C. I. Burrows, Charles S. Robbins and George M. Simmons. Mr. Crockett was chairman of the committee, and it was his day and night to make it the splendid success that it was. His co-workers join with the public in bestowing upon him the best praise and hearty thanks which it is in their power to bestow.

The Vinalhaven Band heading the division devoted to the trades floats, had 20 men in line, with J. W. Kirtledge as leader. The floats were the most colorful and attractive of the parade, and the decorators who had them in charge, and won universal admiration.

The Fuller-Cobb Co.'s float, headed the division of floats, and was a very attractive float drawn by four horses. Furs were advertised.

A four-horse team drew the Standard Oil Co.'s tank wagon, which was decorated with bunting.

A float decorated with pure white bunting, on which were several cakes of ice, represented one department of St. Clair & Sprague's business.

Four fraternal orders were represented by floats which were greatly admired. First was a large float, drawn by four horses, representing the Loyal Order of Moose. It was decorated with evergreen, and its conspicuous emblem was an enormous moose head. The platform was made to represent a lodge room, and the officers were seen at their various stations.

Next came a float representing the Fraternal Order of Eagles, drawn by two horses. Apparently flying among the evergreen trees was a large eagle, and in one corner was an eagle's nest with the mother bird seated therein. The color scheme was red, white and blue.

One of the smallest floats in the parade and one which attracted especial attention, represented the Order of Owl's. It was a covered wagon, decorated in blue and white, drawn by a black horse, with white trappings. The occupants were a little boy and little girl, and over their heads were a number of owls. "The Owl's Protect Me," read a placard, and the point appealed to the spectators.

The Knights of Pythias had a large triangular shaped float decorated in the fraternity's colors, red, yellow and blue. Seated on a platform were members of the Lodge and Uniformed Rank, and well known characters in Pythian history were represented.

George W. Berry, who is perhaps the oldest member of the order in this section, rode on the platform.

Charles E. Heckbert, paper-hanger, was represented by a pony carriage, the pony being driven by one of his daughters.

F. R. Spear had a coal wagon in line, the occupant a dainty Miss in white, contrasting strongly with the coal.

The Rockland Theatre was represented by a smart outfit drawn by two horses. Seated in the wagon was the smiling manager, Al. V. Rosenberg, and the vaudeville artists who were doing turns here the first half of the week.

The Texas Oil Co.'s tank wagon drawn by eight horses and decorated in purple and white got "a hand." The four pairs of horses were prettily handled by Ezra Barrows, the company's driver.

G. K. Mayo & Son was represented by a carriage drawn by a pair of black horses. Various branches of the firm's business were advertised.

Another carriage proved an effective advertisement for Huston's Biscuits. The Camden Concert Band of 18 pieces, Mark L. Crockett leader, was in line at this point.

The Burpee Furniture Co. had a large and striking float demonstrating their carpets, draperies and furniture.

The W. O. Hewett Co. had two floats. The first was the firm's motor delivery, decorated with red flowers. The second was a large float arranged in colonial style with fluted columns, decorated with white chrysanthemums. It was a tribute to E. H. Crie's decorative ability. Costumes were demonstrated by the corps of clerks.

The Rockland Beef Co.'s float representing the Swift products, attractively arranged.

G. E. Mason's motor delivery told that sea food was his line of business.

St. Clair & Allen's team advertised Velvets, which were so much in evidence during the day.

The White Sewing Machine Co. had a float, with its local agent as driver.

M. B. & C. O. Perry advertised their coal business with a wagon loaded with large lumps of that material, drawn by three horses.

The Evapero float advertised a well known Rockland made cleanser.

S. H. Doe's floral carriage was decorated in white, and drawn by his magnificent black stallion evoked many admiring comments.

Farrand, Spear & Co. contributed a liberal portion of the trade procession, having in line four coal wagons, and three which represented wood, grain and flour. Heading this fleet was a team containing "Gard" and "Ned." Ned's boy did a dark-face act, distributing samples.

The Maine Music Co. had an imposing float, the occupants of which were a bevy of maidens clad in white.

The Simonton Dry Goods Co. had a green and white float, advertising their handkerchiefs.

L. N. Littlehale presented an auto truck laden with samples of flour handled by his firm.

Barnham's Band of 18 pieces, H. D. Barnham-director, headed the next division.

The Limerock Steam Laundry had in line their motor delivery, decorated in green and white.

Rising & Anderson followed with a motor delivery advertising their bakery. This car was manufactured by the senior member of the firm.

Armour's products were demonstrated in the firm's motor truck.

C. E. Daniel's motor car was handsomely decorated in green and white. Affixed to the rear was an imitation of the big clock which stands in front of his jewelry store. Another automobile float was placed in line by C. I. Burrows. It was decorated with golden rod.

Bicycles, high and low, antique and new, brought up the rear of the trades floats and the latest type was a motor cycle ridden by Robert Tolman. Fred Harden, who invented a bicycle capable of carrying his wife and child, in addition to himself, found himself an object of much interest, and the crowd of children and little child who rode on the side-wheel seat.

In the automobile section of the parade were about 30 motor cars, varying from the 2-seater runabout to the elegant limousine with a capacity for seven persons. It is so difficult to maintain procession pace that quite a number of the cars dropped out before the final stages of the long march had been completed.

This parade was 45 minutes passing a given point. Many residences along the route were handsomely decorated with flags and piazzas were filled with spectators.

The Firemen's Muster Wednesday, the second day of the Carnival, was devoted exclusively to the firemen. There were a dozen or more of the visiting companies, and whichever way you looked the eye seemed to focus upon the distinctive uniform of fire ladders. The crowd was not to be compared, numerically, with the one which watched Tuesday's parade, but would have seemed large and great if not outnumbered by people been in mind. Ideal weather again favored the occasion, and the firemen were as chipper as larks as they assembled for the parade.

Milton W. Weymouth, ensign of the Rockland division of Naval Reserves, made a very efficient marshal of the day, assisted by former-Ensign Herbert R. Mullen. Both were mounted. The order of march was as follows:

Auto containing I. B. Simmons, chief of fire department.

Auto containing board of assistant engineers—A. S. Niles, Fuller C. Blackington and Albert Havener.

Auto containing judges—James Donohue, John A. Karl, A. H. Jones and T. S. McIntosh.

Auto containing visiting chiefs.

Auto containing Mayor Blethen, and committee on fire department.

Steamer City of Rockland, Fred Smith driver.

Americus Hook & Ladder Co., 13 men, Ivan A. Trueworthy captain.

Hook & Ladder truck, A. H. Rich driver.

James F. Sears, Benjamin B. Sears, engine Co., Thomaston, John Hanley foreman.

Counce Hand Engine, William Monroe driver.

Eureka Hose Co., Thomaston, 14 men, Ellis Perrie drivers.

G. F. Burgess Engine Co., No. 5, Rockport, 60 men, Fred Copeland foreman.

Burgess Hand Engine, Henry Carleton driver.

Kennebec Engine Co., Brunswick, 30 men, Howard Johnson foreman.

Kennebec Hand Engine, Carl Ross driver.

Niagara Engine Co., No. 3, Brunswick, 50 men, Guy Nickerson foreman.

Niagara Hand Engine and racing reel hauled by hand.

Tiger Engine Co., Warren, 75 men, Charles F. Yates foreman.

Tiger Hand Engine, William Erskine driver.

H. & C. Reel Team, Bath, 14 men, Ernest Russell foreman with reel.

Atlantic Reel Team, Camden, 14 men, Arthur Handy foreman, with reel.

Senator Hale Reel Team, Ellsworth, 20 men, Hollis E. Davis foreman.

Orono Reel Team, 20 men, A. A. Powers, with reel.

Music was furnished by Ingerham's Band and Farnham's Band of this city.

As usual the local department was given the right of the line, and it was headed by Rockland's new fire-fighting organization, the Americus Hook & Ladder Co., which succeeded the company, recently disbanded. The men appeared in bran-new uniforms of white and got a good hand along the line.

The G. F. Burgess Engine Co., which subsequently carried off the highest honors of the day, made an especially fine appearance, every man in uniform and marching in excellent order. The other Knox county engine companies—R. H. Counce of Thomaston and Tigers of Warren—came in for special recognition. The Counce engine was very prettily decorated with bunting and golden rod.

The Brunswick firemen wore the red shirts which are always associated in popular fancy with a fireman's muster. Everybody took a good look at the Niagara engine, which was being dragged over familiar ground, for it was formerly known as the N. A. Burpee, and was in service here before the day of the steam fire engines. The Niagara holds the state record, having thrown a stream 2388 feet. The other Brunswick tub is no slouch, having a record of 230 feet.

The racing companies, looking fit for their afternoon task, were given much attention and applause.

The firemen had every reason to feel proud of the showing they made in Wednesday's parade.

The muster events were held in the afternoon, the play-off taking place on South Main street, while the reel races were being pulled off on Park street. In all there were probably about 3000 spectators.

It was fun and exciting to watch the Niagara band tub would win the play-off, but surprises were to be the order of the afternoon on South Main street.

The Niagaras drew first try and the red-shirted members of that company were looks of supreme confidence, as the stream wet the paper at a distance of 213 feet 3 inches.

Their neighbors, the Kennebecs, made a comparatively poor showing—177 feet 2 inches.

The Tigers of Warren, many in number and full of confidences came on next with their machine and were filled with confidence, for they had acquitted 215 feet 8 1/2 inches. This bettered the Niagara's record by 2 feet and 5 1/2 inches and looked so good to the Warren firemen that they had the prize money already spent, in their minds.

The R. H. Counce engine of Thomaston did nothing to lessen that confidence, for its best stream was only 184 feet, 2 1/2 inches.

Now comes the G. F. Burgess tub with its 60 stalwart men to work the brakes. The first stream was nothing alarming, but when the company buckled down for the second throw there was something that delighted the old firemen. Whish! The stream shot through the air, and there was a wild cheer when it was seen that it had broken all the previous records. The official measurement showed 221 feet, 7 inches, so first prize of $200 went to Rockport and second prize of $100 went to Warren.

Unbounded joy reigned among the Burgess company, which promptly proceeded to parade the streets blowing horns and waving brooms. It was a mighty good stunt, and the Rockport boys are entitled to the handsome purse they won.

Meantime things were getting warmer and warmer on Park street.

The H. & C. Co. of Bath had first try in the reel race but lost connection with the line.

The Atlantic Co. of Camden was the victim of a very unfortunate mix-up which is regretted by nobody so much as by the official timer, Orel E. Davis. There was considerable discussion and Mr. Davies favored giving the Camden team another trial, but the judges were unable to see how this could be done.

The Kennebec Co. had some sprinters, and they had the stream on in 44.45 seconds.

The Knox Co. of Thomaston lost connection at the nozzle.

The Orono Paper Co. did the trick 2-5 of a second faster than the Kennebecs and captured first money. On their way home in motor cars they gave vent to their delight by blowing horns, waving flags, etc. They are could run some.

The reel race for the home companies resulted as follows: Gen. Berry Co., 51 1-5 seconds; N. A. Burpee Hose Co., 52 4-5 seconds; James F. Sears Co., hose blown off at the hydrant. The Berrys consequently won the money.

The reel races were in charge of Albert Havener and Fuller C. Blackington, with Orel E. Davies as timer.

The firemen had a ball in the Arcade Wednesday evening, and were a happy lot when they departed for home late that night or early the following morning. Rockland always gives 'em a good time.

The only event to mar the success of the muster was the accident which befell Everett Stevens of Warren, a member of the Tigers. He stumbled under the descending brake, and received a clip which laid his scalp open. Bleeding profusely he was taken to Knox hospital where he received surgical attention, and was back in half an hour helping cheer the victors.

Chief Engineer and his assistants on the committee are entitled to much praise for the smoothness with which the muster passed off.

The Five-Mile Race

Differing in character from any other attraction the Carnival had offered was the long distance race Thursday afternoon. The course was the square bounded by Union, Park, Broadway and Limerock street, and by actual measurement is a trifle over a mile long. The five laps gave a total distance not far short of five and one-quarter miles.

There were five entries: Arthur Hatch of Dark Harbor, Frank Morris of Old Town, Israel Snow, Jr. of Rockland, Walter Jones of Rockland, Joe Marino of Rockland.

Farnham's Band was borrowed temporarily from the Midway, and there was a big crowd in the vicinity of Grand Army hall when the starter,

Milton W. Weymouth, pulled the trigger.

Marino had an easy lead at the end of the first lap, with Morris second, Snow third, Hatch fourth and Jones fifth. The time for this lap was 5 m. 55 s.

On the first half of the final lap Jones began to forge ahead rapidly, and when the corner of Broadway was reached he had passed into the lead. The home stretch was a very pretty race between Jones, Morris and Snow who finished in the order named.

Marino was fourth and Hatch was last. The time was 33 minutes. The judges were A. E. Brunberg, E. R. Veazie, Arthur S. Baker and Mr. Simpson.

But for a bit of ill luck the race would have been enlivened by the presence of Andrew Sockalexis, the

C. M. Walker has sold the home-stand of Fred H. Butler at 174 Main street, to William K. Clinton, who will either occupy it as a residence or rent it.

The much postponed pardon hearing of Domenico Teti is now set for Sept. 10. He will be reconciled to life imprisonment if there are many more delays.

The Maine Retail Jewelers Association has a convention in Portland Sept. 4 and 5 at the Congress Square hotel. Special rates are offered by the transportation companies.

Sixty-five members of the Order of Owls had an enjoyable outing at Spruce Head last Sunday. A very nice lobster dinner was followed by a smoke talk and general good time.

Difficulty in getting land privileges is handicapping the progress of the cross country line which is to furnish power for the Street Railway and other local industries. The trouble is beyond union.

E. H. Crie's crew has finished work on the high school building, which included the painting of the wood work on the outside, and kalsomining of certain rooms inside. Mr. Crie's men have finished painting F. J. Orbeton's house on Rankin street, and he now has a crew at Vinalhaven decorating the Masonic quarters.

The pride of Oakland Park just now is the magnificent veranda near the pond. Fanny the ire of Manager Hawken when he learned Wednesday that a portion of the bed had been trodden down and destroyed by ruthless vandals. In beautifying Oakland Park the Street Railway is engaged in a work that benefits and pleases the entire community, and anybody who seeks to prevent it should be dealt with as his meanness deserves.

The annual game of the Rockland and Warren Old Timers will be played at Crescent Beach Saturday afternoon. Although the name would seem to indicate that the contestants are shelved at all other times in the year, such is not the case, for several of them are figuring in this season's league games, while the others are able to prove that they have not forgotten the days when they, too, were heroes of the local diamond. The game will begin at 2:30.

Thomaston defeated Rockland 22 to 12 in the Triangular League Wednesday afternoon. The game was very loosely played and possessed but little interest other than manifested in the terrific batting. Wilson pitched for Thomaston, while Rockland was using three twirlers. Thomaston has won every game it has played in the Triangular League, but the Rockland team which has faced is hardly to be compared with the Rockland team which so handily won the pennant in the Knox Trolley League. Both teams will be stronger than they have been at any other time this season when they meet on the Broadway ground this Friday afternoon for the Old Home Week purse of $40.

ARABELLA PEASE CONANT
In the death of Arabella Pease Conant, wife of W. D. Conant, Rockland loses another of its old and greatly respected citizens. Although Mrs. Conant spent the last five years of her life at Rumford, previous to that she lived 35 years in Rockland. She was born in Appleton, Nov. 22, 1845, and was the daughter of the late J. D. Pease. About 13 weeks ago she was stricken with apoplexy, caused by running to escape a shower.

She had been peacefully and tenderly cared for by her only child, Mrs. W. W. Gilchrist of Thomaston, from the very first of her illness. During that time two trained nurses have been with her, and all that was the power of those who loved her so much was done for her. Four weeks ago she was brought by auto to the home of her daughter and she showed slow improvement until a week before her death when she began to fail. The end came peacefully.

Mrs. Conant had many friends, young and old who appreciated her ready wit. She was always ready to help those in trouble. She endeavored herself to all with whom she became associated by her lovely and firm traits of character. Through her long illness she was a most patient sufferer, and when the end came she was prepared to enter the heavenly home. Sympathy is extended to her husband, N. B. Conant, to whom she was married 40 years ago, and to her daughter, Mrs. W. W. Gilchrist of Thomaston, at whose home the funeral services were held last Friday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Oliver of Thomaston officiating. The large and beautiful display of flowers was the last tribute from many dear friends. Mrs. Conant leaves, besides her husband and daughter, three brothers, Silas of California, Martin of Union and James of Hope; also two sisters, Mary McCorriston of Appleton and Sarah of Hope. The remains were taken to Appleton for burial.

AT THE ROCKLAND THEATRE
Rockland's Most Popular Amusement Resort
Monster crowds packed this most popular theatre all the week, and last night they couldn't begin to accommodate the immense crowds that waited for admittance to see the big Keith's headline monster bill that opened their engagement yesterday. It is positively the biggest and best vaudeville program ever brought to this city, and very few cities in this state have ever enjoyed any better show of vaudeville than that on the bill today. Brimful of wholesome fun and novelties. Every act on the bill this last of the week is "A Big Time Act," which means that it plays the biggest theatres in the country, and is a varied bill consisting of refined comedy, singing, dancing and everything else.

Richard Hamlin, called "The Medley man in brown," presents an original singing, talking and dancing novelty entitled "The Medley Man in Brown." The title is surely appropriate and is in perfect harmony with his exceptionally unique and clever offering. The music is a medley arrangement consisting of more than one hundred popular airs; the costumes are of a beautiful golden brown. Following Mr. Hamlin is the act of Edney Bros. Company presenting their original popular novelty "Stepping in China Town." The act is filled with clever dancing, sparkling wit and a number of novelties presented with special scenery; special music, original and exclusive songs. Surrounding the above feature was Josephine Saxton and her troupe of Piccaninies, five in number. They close the vaudeville portion of the show, with a melange of singing, dancing and eccentric comedy which provokes incessant laughter and applause and completes more than an hour and a half of first class entertainment.

Special secured picture plays will be shown in an entire change today, with special music. Every one ought to see this grand bill, and the management has arranged the prices to be low for any seat in the theatre, so all can see this big show.

A special secured bill of vaudeville and the big Pathe's three reel feature picture "The Orleans Coach" will open its engagement Monday.

THE IDEAL CLARION FOR WOOD

Buy Your Mustard from Headquarters

We know our product from beginning to end because we control every detail of the making from the time the seed enters our mills until it goes out in the yellow labelled cans of mustard flour that careful housekeepers have been buying for nearly a century. That's why the Stickney and Poor guarantee of purity means so much. It's based on our first-hand knowledge of our goods. We are the only mustard packers in New England who grind their own mustard seed.

Stickney & Poor's Mustard

We get our seeds from Austria, Italy, England or California—wherever crop conditions are most favorable. With nearly a century of experience behind us, we know where to find the best seeds and how to blend them so as to keep our mustard always the same in quality, strength and color. That's why, in using it in any recipe, you will find it always gives the same result. The appealing flavor is uniform, doesn't vary. Nearly every grocer sells it in 1/4 and 1/2 lb. cans at 10c and 20c. Write for our book of recipes; you will be delighted with it.

Among the other Stickney & Poor Products are: Pepper, Cinnamon, Cloves, Ginger, Mace, Pimento, Sage, Savory, Marjoram, Celery Salt, Curry Powder, Paprika, Tapioca, Nutmeg, Cassia, Allspice, Whole Mixed Spice, Pastry Spice, Turmeric, Thyme, Soda, Potato Flour, Sausage Seasoning, Poultry Cream of Tartar, Rice Flour, Seasoning and Flavoring Extracts.

If you just say "Stickney & Poor's" when ordering, your grocer will give it to you. But—be sure to SAY IT.

MELON COLIC DAYS

Suggest SANFORDS GINGER

A delicious combination of ginger, aromatics and French brandy. Look for the Owl Trade Mark on the wrapper, lest you get a cheap, worthless or dangerous substitute. Forty years the standard of purity, flavor and strength. Sold by all druggists and grocers.

DON'T BE THIN

No Need of Being Scrawny, Weak and Emaciated

In these days of physical culture and health foods, one would hardly expect to see any thin, weak, emaciated people, but in spite of all this nearly every person you meet is thin and scrawny.

Good healthy flesh can only be gained by the use of the proper food with thorough assimilation of the fat-giving elements. Nine people out of ten in order to weigh as much as they ought and be perfectly healthy, should use Samose, the great flesh-forming food. Weigh yourself before commencing to use these little tablets, and see how your weight increases.

Samose has valuable flesh-forming and tissue building properties, and when it is assimilated with the food, it causes the flesh-making elements to be retained and the weight is naturally increased.

C. H. Pendleton, the popular druggist, has sold in the last few weeks a great many packages of Samose, every one with his personal guarantee to refund the money if it did not give satisfaction and has had but one person ask for the money back.

APPLETON

Washington campmeeting is in session and will end Sunday, Aug. 25.

WHAT ARE YOU DOING

To be still strong and active at 40 or 50, to be well free from pain and discomfort at 75 or 80. Are you careful about your eating, eat slowly and the right kind of food? Exercise enough out-of-doors by day? Plenty of fresh air in your sleeping apartments at night? Watching the bowels and liver to keep them active, taking a teaspoonful of "L. F." Atwood's Medicine to quicken them when needed, and to break up a cold when first symptoms appear?

Mrs. O. B. Fuller, Union, Me., writes: "The 'L. F.' Medicine has been our standard remedy for years. Neither my husband, children or myself have been sick enough for a doctor in twenty-two years. I tell my friends it is because I always have 'L. F.' Medicine on hand, and 'An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure'."

On sale at all good stores. 35 cents a large bottle. For free sample by mail address "L. F." MEDICINE CO., Portland, Me.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Vanner of Somerville, Mass., and son Charles Maxwell are spending their vacation at A. C. Vanner's. They came in their automobile.

Two large touring cars filled with people called at the residence of W. E. Overlock last week inquiring the way to Camden. They had come from Augusta and got lost and had been about 35 miles out of their way. They were temperance people, however.

State Sunday School Missionary Willard E. Overlock has recently returned from a trip on the Islands and down on the coast.

Merle B. Marr took an automobile trip to Portland, Lewiston and Augusta last week.

The many friends of Mrs. Abbie Moody will be pained to learn that she is seriously ill.

IF YOU NEED A MEDICINE, YOU SHOULD HAVE THE BEST

Although there are hundreds of preparations advertised, there is only one that really stands out pre-eminent as the remedy for diseases of the kidneys, liver and bladder.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root stands the highest, for the reason that it has proved to be just the remedy needed in thousands upon thousands of even the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root makes friends quickly because its mild and immediate effect is soon realized. It is a gentle, healing vegetable compound.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is a physician's prescription for special diseases, which is not recommended for everything.

Easy To Get Rid of Corns THIS Way

"GETS-IT" the New Corn Cure Guaranteed.

Corns Gone! "GETS-IT" Got 'Em!"

"GETS-IT" is the new-plant corn cure that will surely remove the very first time you use it, it is so simple, painless, quick and sure in its action.

It shrivels up the corn, wart, callous or bunion, separates them from the true flesh, the corn comes off, and there you are, with feet that feel positively glorious; corn-free once more as they used to be in your "bare-foot days."

The most remarkable feature is that "GETS-IT" does not harm or turn raw the healthy flesh as other preparations do. It is as safe as water. No more plasters, bandages or salves.

"GETS-IT" is sold at drug stores at 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

NEW YORK LETTER

Giant Food Shops to Cut Living Cost—Markets on Department Store Model to Buy and Sell Direct—City Belegged by Attacking Army.

New York, August 17.—Plans are now under way here which will not only revolutionize many established sales methods but provide this city with a series of stores unique in its commercial development or for that matter, the whole country. These plans propose nothing less than the establishment of great food department stores, handling nothing but edibles of every kind and these in enormous quantities by which it is expected that the cost of living in this city alone. Such stores as these are now recommended by the Food Investigation Committee which has been studying the whole problem of the high cost of living in an effort to bring about a quick reduction from the $60,000,000 which New Yorkers spend each year for the simple food necessities. It is the belief of the Committee that large retail food department stores buying direct, receiving direct and each selling direct to 25,000 people, is the best economic type in point of efficiency, minimum of waste, satisfactory distribution and due rewards for management and capital. Toward the development of such stores the committee believes retailers, wholesalers and private organizations should move. The plan is one of tremendous scope and contemplates the fixing of primary wholesale prices by systematic auction sales in lots suitable for purchase by retailers, conducted under the auspices of the city or of a public organization, not for profit, in which all parties interested should have a voice constituting, on primary prices, a producers' and consumers' market. Railroad and steamship companies are to be asked to cooperate as well and a particular feature contemplates the issuing of bulletins showing just what supplies are in transit together with the date of their arrival. Undoubtedly the experiment will be watched with much interest since it proves successful here it is likely to lead to new methods of marketing throughout the country.

What will probably go down in the annals of New York's professionally unemployed, otherwise the city's loafers, as the most painful episode in the history of the municipality has just taken place, with the pouring into the gutters of one of the streets in the heart of the city of more than 6000 gallons of wine, the blood of more than 50,000,000 grapes. The flood which was worth at least $50,000 filled the street on its way to the sewers while thousands of thirty persons sighed for a chance to dip up a can full of the sparkling liquid. The wasted beverages, which filled many hogheads represented the fruits of raids carried on in the Tenderloin and other districts for three months and were confiscated because various restaurant operators thought that they could do business without bothering to secure a liquor license. Loud wails were heard from the crowd as the gutter stream rose to a depth of four inches as the police officers knocked in barrel heads and smashed bottles as fast as their arms could work, mixing old red-eye along with Benedictine, beer with Extra

Dry, Chianti with Creme de Minthe, absinthe with muscatel. Even the commissioner in charge admitted that he considered the waste of so much valuable wine the next thing to a crime, but that no legal way had been devised to avoid it. It has been suggested that wine seized in this way should be given to the hospitals, but thus far no warrant in law exists for such a course.

Not since the stirring days of 1868 has New York seen such signs of military activity as have marked the city for the past few days. Regiments of khaki-clad infantry, divisions of cavalry and detachments of artillery have been marching through the streets rushing to the defense of the city, for, he understood, New York is in a state of siege theoretically as an incident of the annual maneuvers of the regular and militia forces under the direction of the Department of War, and he was forced to capitulate any day to the attacking army that has been marching down over the Connecticut hills in an effort to capture the city from its landward base.

Twenty thousand troops are engaged in the operations and not until the decision of the official umpires is rendered will New Yorkers know whether the city is to be the hands of a hostile power or whether the brave defenders of their hearthstones have triumphed. Thus far the "war" has caused no serious inconvenience to residents of the metropolis since none of the besieging forces have penetrated nearer than 20 miles to the city and about the only view of the operations that New Yorkers have had has been an occasional glimpse of members of the aviation corps skimming along the northern horizon on reconnoitering expeditions. Several thousand city workmen converted for the time being into war-chargers are making the surprising discovery that there are phases of life even more strenuous than propelling a truck along the city's crowded thoroughfares.

The musicless musical comedy is an anomaly which is likely to greet visitors to New York with a taste for the taking in the shows along the Great White Way this winter. As a result of the demand of the musicians for an increase in rates the announcement has gone forth that in ten well-known playhouses there will be no orchestras next season and others are expected to follow the same course. The absence of music from these houses undoubtedly will be a novelty, and as it is what Broadway is always looking for the move may gain the stamp of popular approval. Heretofore it appears, traveling musical companies having their own musicians have carried on an average twelve men at a weekly salary of $35 each, making the cost of the orchestra $420. Now, however, the organized purveyors of sweet sounds want each company to carry 25 musicians with salaries of $75 a week thus making the cost of an orchestra $1875 instead of $420. Under the old scale the cost of carrying an orchestra for a season of 40 weeks was $16,800 as against $75,000 under the scale now demanded. As a result many theatres have decided that an orchestra at this price will be a too expensive luxury and theatregoers this winter may be given an opportunity to get away from the ever present music and discover just what a theatrical entertainment without musical trimmings is like.

In the Summer Camp

Cliequot Club Ginger Ale is one of the summer-camp necessities. It is pure, wholesome, refreshing. All ages drink it with pleasure and benefit—men, women and children.

Cliequot Club GINGER ALE

Its thirst-quenching taste is a delight to the palate. Its wholesome purity upbuilds and refreshes in the heat of the day. Made of crystal-pure spring water, choice ginger, fine cane sugar and oils of lime and lemons. It's the ideal summer health beverage.

Other Cliequot Beverages: Sarsaparilla, Birch Beer, Root Beer, Lemon Soda, Orange Phosphate.

At the better class resorts, served in ice cream, at a price amounting to about 10¢ per glass.

IN GRANITE CIRCLES

Business Good at Hurricane—Bout the Same at Stonington.

The following correspondence, clipped from the current issue of Quarry Workers' Journal, describes the granite situation in two of our granite centers.

Hurricane Island—Business is good here at present in the quarries. Since my last report the company has shipped a large load of cut granite and a load of between 60,000 and 70,000 paving blocks. At our last meeting we elected the following officers: President, Joseph Nichols, vice president, Thomas Fleming; corresponding secretary, A. A. Philbrook; financial secretary, John Fleming; treasurer, John Patterson.—A. A. Philbrook.

Stonington—Business is about the same as my last letter and I think that was back in May. There are some reports of a job coming here at J. M. Rogers' quarry. In this town they have one of the largest derricks in the state, a derrick 90 feet high, casting at the foot of derrick 4 1-2 tons, casting at the head, 2 1-2 tons, 12X1 1-2 steel guys. The hoister that handles this derrick is 18 h. p. This gear is good for 75 tons, all lately installed. If there is anything coming this way, we are ready to use it right.—C. K. Pierson.

THE GREAT EVENT FOR OLD HOME WEEK
Will be the BIRD MAN

Who will make daily flights for the benefit of thousands of visitors to Rockland during that week. Why not avail yourself of the opportunity during your visit to Rockland extended by Dr. Damon to have your teeth extracted painlessly? I will make a specialty during that week of demonstrating my painless method which is one of the great inventions of the twentieth century. Please read below what a few of our many satisfied patrons have to say.

Your method beats anything I ever heard of. I never felt it at all.
BIRD THOMPSON,
Fort Clyde, Me.
I had out 8 teeth at one time and I can truthfully say you never hurt me one bit.
FANNIE E. SALMONS,
Rockland, Maine.
Had out all the remaining teeth on my upper jaw and three on lower, at one time. It never hurt a particle. Would advise all my friends to go to Dr. Damon.
A. B. WEYMOUTH,
6 Fogg St., Rockland, Maine.
Dr. Damon:
Your extracting never hurt a bit.
ELEANOR F. BEEFIELD,
Hope, Maine.
The four big teeth you extracted for me didn't hurt a bit. Would give $100 to get you to extract a tooth rather than to let the others do it.
KARL WOODCOCK,
Thomaston

MODERN AILMENT IS SWEEPING COUNTRY

Do You Lack In Strength?

The New Tonic Will Build You Up and Restore Lost Energy, Ambition and Vitality.

The hustle and worry and strain of modern life has produced a modern ailment. This modern ailment is nervous debility and during the past ten years it has swept over the country like wild-fire.

Today a large percentage of the population, particularly city dwellers, is afflicted with nervous debility or a "run-down" condition as it is called.

The chief symptoms of this modern complaint are lack of vitality and energy, nervousness and stomach trouble, weak back, poor circulation, constipation and insomnia.

Old fashioned remedies failing, a modern tonic was introduced in Europe to overcome this trouble.

The medicine was an instantaneous success and a similar tonic is now meeting with tremendous success in this country. The tonic is called Tona Vita and it builds up run-down people in a few weeks time.

Are you a victim of this miserable run-down, half-sick, tired-all-the-time condition? Are you nervous and despondent? Do you lack energy and ambition? If so, you have nervous debility and the wisest possible thing you can do is to let Tona Vita build you up and bring back your health and strength as it has done for thousands of others. You will be astonished how quickly this great modern tonic will make you feel as though made over.

Lee's Rhubarb Laxative, the assistant remedy, is used in cases of chronic constipation. Rhubarb is the finest of all natural laxatives. Other drugs strain and weaken the intestines, rhubarb strengthens them. Lee's Rhubarb Laxative is an ideal family medicine and should be given to children in preference to all others. The taste is pleasant.

Norcross Drug Stores have the agency for these two great medicines in Rockland and will refund your money if you are not completely satisfied with them.

Years of Suffering

Catarrah and Blood Disease—Doctors Failed to Cure.

Miss Mabel F. Dawkins, 1214 Lafayette St., Fort Wayne, Ind., writes: "For three years I was troubled with catarrah and blood disease. I tried several doctors and a dozen different remedies, but none of them did me any good. A friend told me of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I took two bottles of this medicine and was as well and strong as ever. I feel like a different person and recommend Hood's to any one suffering from catarrah." Get it today in usual liquid form or chocolate tablets called Sarsatabs.

POSTMASTER EXAMINATION

Saturday, September 14, 1912.

The United States Civil Service Commission announces that on the date named above an examination will be held at Rockland as a result of which it is expected to make certification to fill a contemplated vacancy in the position of fourth class postmaster of class (b) at Owl's Head and other vacancies as they may occur at that office, unless it shall be decided in the interests of the service to fill the vacancy by reinstatement. The compensation of the postmaster at this office was $302 for the last fiscal year.

Age limit, 21 years and over on the date of the examination, with the exception that in a State where women are declared by statute to be of full age for all purposes at 18 years, women 18 years of age on the date of the examination will be admitted.

Applicants must reside within the territory supplied by the post office for which the examination is announced.

The examination is open to all citizens of the United States who can comply with the requirements.

Application forms and full information concerning the requirements of the examination can be secured from the postmaster at Owl's Head or the secretary of the board of civil service examiners at Rockland or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

Applications should be properly executed and filed with the commission at Washington within 7 days before the date of the examination, otherwise it may be impracticable to examine the applicants.
